It has been observed that during Question Hour and while asking supplementary questions, attempts are, at times, made to raise matters that go beyond the scope of the admitted questions.

Members are reminded that supplementary questions should flow from the original Question. The supplementary asked should be brief, specific, relevant and within the scope of the main Question. Members should seek information rather than give information or make suggestions for action. They should avoid prefacing their supplementary with an introductory statement.

Ministers are requested to give brief answers to supplementary questions and offer to provide details, if essential.

MEMBERS/DEBATES

44. Maiden Speech by a Member

As per established parliamentary convention, a Member delivering a maiden speech in the House is not interrupted by other Members and is also given reasonable time by the Chair for his/her speech.

It has, however, been observed that sometimes a Member making his or her maiden speech goes beyond the normally expected time and at times speaks beyond the scope of the matter under discussion.

A Member making his/her maiden speech should, therefore, do so in a manner that does not impinge on time management for the scheduled business of the day and should not exceed 15-20 minutes.
